While the metro interface is very functional it does take away from the appearance of the desktop. Luckily the launchers makes the appearance of the desktop even more organized. Every icon is an application that can be launched directly from your desktop. Furthermore, the launchers icon is a link to a website, or a social network, and so forth. If you like to visit websites you can do so directly from the desktop. Or, if you prefer to keep things more organized, you can select the launcher you want to open with. Simply right-click on the launcher and select the application you want to open the link in. Additional Info: You can download the launcher from my website. The download includes three different theme packages. You can install all the themes as they stand and select the one you want to use.
