Installing Photoshop Elements on Windows One of the things that people have found difficult is installing Photoshop Elements on Windows. Our guide to installing Photoshop Elements on Windows will tell you how to do it step-by-step. Step 1: Download and install Windows 10 Download the Windows 10 ISO file from Microsoft and burn it using the application Nero that you already have on your computer. I will be using Windows 10 version 1809. Step 2: Connect your computer to the Internet Download the Adobe Photoshop Elements installer from the Adobe website and save it to your desktop or any other location you want. Step 3: Run the installer Run the installer. Once the installation is complete, restart your computer. Step 4: Download and install the drivers Some types of memory are required for the software to work well, so you will need to download and install the required drivers. Below is a list of the computers that I have used. My computer does not have all the mentioned drivers, so you might have to adjust the settings manually. Techie friends, you can get the drivers from the official website of your computer model. For example, my laptop is made by Dell and I have used drivers from the official site for my machine. I am sure that you will need to look at the driver's website on your computer model. You can download the driver for either the wireless card or the device driver. Driver Download Method Wireless PC Manufacturer/Model Part Number Wireless User agent String Driver Version or firmware Vendor Version Updating the drivers might mean you will need to restart your computer, so make sure you will have a period of time to restart your computer. Step 5: Activate Adobe Elements The activation step is pretty straightforward. You should now be able to use Adobe Elements in Windows 10. I think if you have installed your operating system correctly, you should be able to access Elements. Otherwise, you should be able to run the installer once again. Step 6: Download and Install Adobe Elements Check the box that says "Automatically keep this program up to date." Click continue. Click on "Reload" in the list of updates. You can read more about the setup here. This guide has everything you need to know. Read more: Photoshop Elements Alternatives: 05a79cecff

No. 12 WVU unimpressed with USF THOMPSON, Ohio – Junior Joey Campanale and fifth-year senior Nate Hearn were the stars of West Virginia's basketball team on Saturday afternoon as the Mountaineers dominated the San Francisco Dons, 76-67, before a partisan hometown crowd in a WVU Invitational game at Mount St. Mary's University. Campanale, who made five 3-pointers against the Dons, scored a game-high 18 points in the victory. Hearn followed with 16 points and 13 rebounds. First-year coach Bob Huggins said it was hard to tell who was the better team, West Virginia or San Francisco. "If you could put your finger on it, I'd have to say they're better, but you can't put your finger on who's better," Huggins said. "We came out and guarded them, we wanted to see what they're like. They're like the best team we played this season." WVU (1-1) jumped out to an early lead and went ahead for good by halftime, and the 14 turnovers San Francisco committed did not help the Dons' cause. "They committed 14 turnovers in the first half, which we don't do," Huggins said. WVU shot 51 percent from the field, including 19-of-22 from 3-point range, and made an impressive 14-of-21 behind the 3-point line. The Mountaineers were nearly unguardable from downtown. Zach Haney led the team with a game-high 19 points and Cody Waldron had a double-double of 10 points and 10 rebounds. WVU also got another solid outing from freshman point guard Kamau Stokes, who threw in a season-high nine points. The Mountaineers hit big shots down the stretch, turning a six-point deficit into a 14-point lead and then a 14-point advantage. "Zach Haney hit an unbelievable shot on the wing off a pass by Cody Waldron, who had his hands up and just kind of come off his hip as he was going to the basket," Huggins said. "And he made a nice shot at the

More car brands in 2019 As the annual trend analysis is released on Wednesday, it is time to reflect on the past 12 months. 11.10.18 Photo: Pixabay.com CHINA Mercedes Benz has introduced its EQ-Astride, the same luxury SUV that was first introduced in 2017 but with the first full electric version of the car on the market. With the EQ-Astride, the all-electric SUVs will also be able to generate "renewable energy" from the vehicle itself, rather than solar panels. The automaker said that the electric SUV was expected to attract consumers seeking long-range, eco-friendly vehicles. BMW has introduced the first-ever production electric vehicle for the Chinese market at the Beijing Motor Show in China. The i3 and i5 are the country's first all-electric cars. The Beijing Motor Show is annually held at the National Stadium, and attracts more than 20,000 visitors. SAUDI ARABIA Nissan has added its first all-electric SUV to its portfolio in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. The car is being sold in the country at the lowest price of $30,000 (862,500 riyals). THE ASIAN MARKET Nissan continues to strengthen its China market position as the leading global carmaker in China for the first time in four years, the Japanese automaker said in a statement. Nissan's market share in China in the first 10 months of this year rose to 17.6 percent, a first in four years. Volkswagen will launch the I.D. series in China in September with the I.D. pick-up and I.D. hatchback models. Volkswagen has seen increased sales of its Jetta and Golf models, as well as the Beetle and its electric e-Golf model. Most of VW's cars are built at its plant in Tianjin in Northern China, while the e-Golf is produced in its plant in Chattanooga, Tennessee. INDIA Mahindra has announced that it will be adding the Tiago to its portfolio in India in 2019. It will be available with a diesel and petrol engine. ROBOTS Bosch has announced that it has started offering self-driving technology to
