Maker Forge is the first WeWorks site to be designed for a cross-disciplinary audience. We have very intentionally built our community-in-the-making to be truly diverse in order to build interesting projects with lots of different perspectives. The goal is to make Maker Forge a useful and fun place to find community projects and interact with other makers. Unlike some of the other Maker Playground sites, Maker Forge is not a Minecraft site. Instead, it will serve as a community where people can collaborate on interesting ideas using any creative tools that are important to them. More specifically, the site will be focused on: Community building: People can contribute new ideas and help build new projects, as well as find new projects to help build Content creation: People can create
