Link3.3★ Download Ta Ra Rum Pum 2007 720p torrentQ: c++ bug / fragmentary code error I have a short program that does a lot of matrix computations using the new Givens rotation method in the cuBLAS.cu library. I have very basic knowledge of the basic Givens rotation matrix method, but I seem to be hitting a bug in the new code. I am calculating the actual rotation matrices that shift all the operands by some constant in both the horizontal and vertical direction. Everything works fine on my laptop, but when I try to compile the code for x86 on my NAS I get the following error: double givens(double param, double *x, double *y, int n, double &r, double &c); e79caf774b
