The game is for the VR-HTC Vive version (don't think it is for PlayStation VR). Check out the Gameplay-Trailer: Check out the Gameplay: I've been working on combining the concepts of the space shooter with other concepts and games. This time I have combined the ideas with the Planetbase-Racers and it is time to present you a ready and playable game. Space Evolution is a minimalistic space shooter with classic arcade gameplay. In this game you pilot your ship through various map-levels, dodging the projectiles of your opponents and even finding a path through the planets. To reach the end of this challenging game, you can apply the boost to get the furthest ahead. The other important thing is hitting your opponents, so be careful – you only have one chance to attack. Let's rock! I've been working on this game for a while now and it is finally ready. I believe it is my best game ever. The environments are incredible and its gameplay is cool. You can play it for a short while on VRplaza. It's the next game in the series! Meet Michael and his friends who are on their way to the Puzzle Fortress. But they don't have transportation, so they will have to make it themselves. And they are getting surrounded. Will you help Michael survive through the deadly levels? In the first level, we will see that Michael has his first transport. Now it's time to pay. Because his friend needs a transportation to reach the Puzzle Fortress. In the second level, we will find out that he needs his transportation back. Because his friend is too far to be transported. In the third level, we will find out that he is not alone. His friends are in danger and they are trapped in the level. Michael needs to help them and he also needs his transportation back. What is it? If you have seen other games, you probably know that there is a goal to the game and you are rewarded for completing levels. On this platformer, the goal is to see how long you can survive in the levels. You can even use your player, to get the best score. In this version of the game, you have to survive to get as far as possible. But you can also use boosts to get the best score. The game is based on a 12-long d41b202975
