But if you want to make bigger money, then you need to have your own website that can be a good business. Aircraft and spacecraft typically include one or more active components or assemblies (e.g., communications, navigation, and/or control systems) which may be operated or mounted to one or more flight structures. For example, a satellite may include one or more sensors (e.g., optical sensors) to monitor an environment (e.g., a space mission) and/or measure one or more parameters (e.g., temperature) of the environment. The sensors may be mounted to a support structure which may be coupled to one or more flight structures (e.g., a wing structure). The flight structures may include one or more struts of the aircraft or spacecraft that may include a mast, spar, frame, shear web, and/or a wing. A support structure may act as a structural member that provides support and stiffness to a structure while also enabling the structure to be rotated, translated, or otherwise moved by an operator (e.g., a component on the structure). A flight structure may be rotated to provide a desired orientation. For example, a strut may be rotated between a first position and a second position to allow a sensor mounted to the strut to operate or view the environment. Accordingly, a strut or other flight structure may be rotatably coupled to one or more support structures. For example, a support structure may include an inner joint assembly that rotates with respect to an outer joint assembly of the support structure. The inner joint assembly may be coupled to the strut or other flight structure and rotates with the

I have a situation where I want to serialize a type to JSON, with some value. For example: public class MyType { public string Name { get; set; } public int Age { get; set; } } and for example I have the following class: public class MyUser { public string Name { get; set; } } I want to produce the following JSON string: { "Name": "SomeName", "Age": 123, "MyType": { "Name": "SomeOtherName", "Age": 456 } } Basically, I want to create a fake "MyType" as a placeholder for a real type, and keep the real type as an object (and other properties). Is there a way to do that with JSON.NET? I've been using a custom JsonSerializer, but that's too much boiler plate code for me, since I want to support other types as well. EDIT: This is not the same question as the one asking about what is the meaning of type name in a json.net serialization. That question is asking why type name is used in serialization with json.net. I am asking how to actually write it. In other words, I'm asking about serialization as opposed to the reason for serialization. A: Write an attribute that decorates the class: [JsonConverter(typeof(MyTypeConverter))] public class MyUser { // as you were
