Police say the incident started at a home on Tucker Street, near Dundas Street West and Highway 401, on Friday. Officers were called to the residence around 8:30 p.m.

According to police, a woman called the domestic violence intervention line, saying she was concerned for her partner, and was worried he was still in the house. Domestic violence officers were called to the location where they found the man and woman were living in a dirty basement apartment. Wearing a hospital gown, the man told officers he was tired and had passed out, and didn't know where his medication was. Police say the man was taken to hospital, and while there, failed to provide his medication to medical staff.
