of a Right, whether real or imagined, is called the threat of a Yes, the threat of a

No. We will not have any political representation of the rights of women without a No to that conservative Right.

But, of course, the Left does not take us seriously—and does not intend to. — StumbleUpon What are these? Congress of Russia The Congress of Russia (RCR;), also known as the Council of People's Deputies of the Soviet Union and later as the Supreme Soviet of the Soviet Union, was the legislative and governing body of the Soviet Union, consisting of delegates and alternates elected in elections at the regional level by the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

Soviet Union First Congress The first Congress was held from 29 June to 10 July 1917 during the Russian Revolution and was attended by 664 delegates and 53 alternates. The congress drafted the 1917 Constitution, for which later constitutions were used. The first Congress was held in the building of the Petrograd Soviet.

Second Congress The second Congress was held from 14 April to 29 April 1920 in Moscow and was attended by 1,314 delegates and 10 alternates. It approved the formation of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. It also drafted the 1922 Constitution, used in post-Soviet states.

The second Congress was held in the building of the Supreme Soviet of the Russian SFSR (today known as the Moscow Kremlin). Third Congress The third Congress was held from 27 May to 1 June 1926 and was attended by 5,945 delegates and 113 alternates. It drafted the 1936 Constitution, used in post-Soviet states.

Fourth Congress The fourth Congress was held from 30 May to 7 June 1934. It was attended by only 400 delegates and 67 alternates and was the smallest Congress since the creation of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. It drafted the 1946 Constitution, which was used in post-Soviet states.

Fifth Congress The fifth Congress was held in June 1961. It was attended by
