To add a new map, you need the following information. Map_Name: Note: Must be unique in the power variants folder. Full Name: This is the name that Haxball should use as a public name. Variants: This can be either a folder or comma separated list of the variants that the map should be added to. Each directory listed after the map name will be added to the map. Permissions: In the form of a comma separated list. First is the permissions as it is now, second is permissions for host, and third is permissions for guest. Maps/Scenarios: You will need to provide the location and size of this map. For more information see here. Optimizations: You'll need to note any optimizations that you found by reading the description and map notes of the map you want to add. Optional Search Terms: You may add any search terms as a comma separated list. To make sure a map does not go to a different folder, append + or - to the search term. For example, +Orcole=Hex would add the map to the Orcole folder. -Eternity=Yes would remove
