Unfortunately, the app can act on many different classes, and different classes have the same keys, but different values. For example: { "ID": 1, "Name": "John" }, { "ID": 2, "Name": "Kevin" }, { "Name": "Jack" }, And the App can act on any of these classes. So I want to be able to deserialize the data to whatever class it is (there is no logic in this) so I can retrieve the value of "Name". Normally in classes I would do this: [DataContract] public class classData { [DataMember] public int Id {get;set;} [DataMember] public string Name {get;set;} } I have been trying to make it as generic as possible but I have not had any luck. I have tried the following but the code gives me an error that it cannot cast the int to string. [DataContract] public class classData { [DataMember] public T Id {get;set;} [DataMember] public string Name {get;set;} } And then I would use a class like: public class DataClass { public classData List{get;set;} } And then I would use the object to deserialize as follows: DataClass classObj = JsonConvert.Deserialize 04aeff104c
