She has been receiving calls and emails asking her to perform. Singh says it is not her style to perform.What happens to all those who aren't asked to perform?"I do not know what to do. I am supposed to perform, but I have no idea as to where should I go or what should I perform," Singh tells ET Magazine. "Somebody called me to perform at one of the gatherings and I have said that I do not want to, because I would hate to see people's effort going down the drain."Singh said she was receiving calls from artists from all over the country."These are artists whose sources of income are from events. Many are attending but they are finding it hard to shift. Nobody wants to perform at these events. They are wondering how can they go to perform."
